Description of CPNI Policies and Procedures

ARN has established policies and procedures to comply with the Federal Communications Commission's ("FCC") rules regarding the use, disclosure, and access to section 64.2001 et seq. of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 64.2001 et seq. These procedures ensure that ARN is compliance with the FCC's customer proprietary network information ("CPNI") rules. This statement is summary of ARN's policies and procedures designed to safeguard CPNI.

Specifically, ARN has ensured that its customer service employees do not have any access to customer data for any purpose. ARN does not have access to customer information in general, but rather renders the billing information for its calls directly to the wireless carrier providing the connection or to its own billing agent, BSG Clearing. ARN does maintain customer data on premises relating to its credit card transactions, and complies with all privacy requirements dictated by its processing agreements. Further, ARN has outsourced all billing and most customer service functions to a third party clearinghouse, BSG Clearing. ARN's in-house customer service only provides rate information or responds to requests for prepaid services paid by credit card. These customer service representatives do not have any access to customer data or call records. ARN has obtained verification from its third party clearinghouse that it complies with the FCC's CPNI requirements.

ARN, through its billing vendor, uses CPNI for the limited purposes of initiating, rendering, billing, and collecting telecommunications services, and may use CPNI, if necessary, to protect its property rights. ARN does not use any CPNI for any marketing purposes. Nor does ARN disclose CPNI or permit access to such CPNI to any third parties other than as necessary to provide service.

ARN trains its personnel in the use of CPNI, and explains that its customer service personnel do not have access to CPNI. ARN has an express disciplinary process in place for any improper use of CPNI.

ARN has implemented measures to discover and to protect against unauthorized attempts to access CPNI. ARN also has implemented procedures pursuant to which it will track breaches of CPNI (and will be notified by its clearinghouse of any such breaches), and it will notify the United States Secret Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. ARN will notify its customers (if permitted) of the security breach, and will notify of the breaches and notifications for a two-year period.

ARN will track customer complaints regarding CPNI.
